

“Jubilee+ has achieved a huge amount in a very short time to encourage churches across the UK to get more involved in social action. It is unique in being able to articulate and help mobilise grassroots activity among churches, and has the potential to go on to speak and demonstrate truth to power in Westminster, to big businesses, and citizens through the media in the public square. Now more than ever, we need churches and Christians to take a stand and demonstrate kingdom values through serving the needy, to educate politicians and other decision-makers in what following Christ is really about.”

Lord Wei

“Jubilee+ is such an exciting catalyst provoking, calling and equipping the Church to meet needs in the community and demonstrate the outrageous compassion of Christ. This movement is really good news for the Church, and amazing news for society at large!”

Matt Barlow, CEO Christians Against Poverty (CAP)

“As leaders of the only national foodbank network in the UK we know just how critically important it is to enhance the capacity of churches in the UK to serve the poor. Jubilee+ and Martin Charlesworth specifically have been stalwart partners to the Trussell Trust as we’ve grown the foodbank movement and we would heartily endorse this initiative to grow the capacity of Jubilee+ to do more of what it does so well.”

Chris Mould, Chair, The Trussell Trust

Partner Churches

Jubilee+ has been on an exciting journey since its inception in 2011. We originally formed to help churches increase their capacity to engage with social action. We formed a national core team that has worked very hard since then to provide training, consultancy, resources and networking opportunities for local churches across the country.

As time has gone on we've developed our vision to encompass three key areas of church activity: social action, social justice and social enterprise. As a result, we have developed conferences and training to facilitate the development of individuals and churches in these three areas. By the end of 2014, we will have hosted more than 2,000 delegates at the various conferences and training events we have run in numerous locations across the UK.

Recently we have been able to engage effectively with politicians on issues relating to the work of churches. We have also been forging strong relationships with Christian social action charities and various church networks and denominations.

Alongside this, we have formed a team specialising in researching the outcomes of church-based social action and publishing reports on its findings.

Our next goal is to form a network of Partner Churches. We would be thrilled if you might consider this opportunity to work more intentionally with us.

With thanks for your ongoing interest and support,

Martin.

What does it mean to be a Jubilee+ Partner Church?

We want the benefits to be mutual. So here's the plan:

What we offer you:

- Discounted tickets at our conferences
- Opportunity to host Jubilee+ regional events
- Priority in requests for Jubilee+ speakers
- Opportunities to meet with our team and other Partner Churches
- Public identification with the work of Jubilee+
- Information about your church on our website

What we ask of you:

- Commitment to promote the work of Jubilee+
- Regular monthly financial commitment to Jubilee+
- Regular prayer for our work
- Information for our research work (where possible)

How is Jubilee+ organised?

Jubilee+ started as an informal task team within the context of Newfrontiers UK. It is now a separate company in its own right, responsible for its own governance. Martin Charlesworth heads up the core team. Graham Anns is chair of directors.
